

C-6200U Print Server Canon

External USB Print Server

Features & benefits

- Designed exclusively to help users better manage their Canon Bubble Jet printers and CAPT (Canon Advanced Printing Technology) laser printers with USB ports, the C-6200U Print Server is ideal for today's digital office because it easily adapts to a variety of environments, from small home-based businesses to larger, enterprise environments.
- The C-6200U Print Server offers reliable "plug & print" support for 10Base-T and 10Base-T/100Base TX network printing. In fact, the C-6200U bridges bi-directional communications, over the network in a Windows environment, with a rang of Canon printer models with a USB interface.
- In addition, with the C-6200U Internet Printing Protocol (IPP) support, users can print to an accessible printer via the Internet.
- The USB server is designed as a USB Master device. It takes the role of the PC in a USB environment. The SILEX designed system allows up to four printers when a USB hub is connected between the USB server and the printers. The printers can be Canon devices or printers from any manufacturer with a USB interface. Connecting up to four printers maximizes the use of your investment by reducing the cost per network connection up to 75 %.
